Decision on De Mucci Homes Near

BY BRUCE CUTLER

Judge Thomas C. Donovan says he will rule "within a day" on a suit by De Mucci Homes Builders against Mount Prospect to gain first building permits.

The judge, after listening to witnesses for two days in circuit court, said Friday he wants some time to think before he decides on the suit. The building firm filed the suit in September alleging that the village is illegally withholding building permits of a dispute with the Oak Ridge subdivision.

On May 5 the village board adopted a resolution stating that the De Mucci firm would not receive any more building permits until the village board approves a 10% increase in the fee for building permits in the Oak Ridge subdivision.

The village believes that the fee increase is necessary to stop flooding in the eastern end of the subdivision.

THE DE MUCCI firm has argued that the village may be in violation of the state's anti-discrimination laws.

Expenditures came to approximately $5.5 million, of which $2.5 per cent was allocated for research and medical services, and to provide local and public health education and community awareness.

"The flooded area is distressed and the village has a duty to the people living there to get the utility to improve before it causes more damage."

Moore told the judge that the village has been taken to improve the facilities to prevent flooding.

He said that a builder has been taken to the court to prevent the village from building up into basements.

Judge Donovan noted that the home De Mucci wishes to receive building permits for is more than a mile away from the flooded area.

"Utility and De Mucci are now in a legal battle," Judge Donovan said.

Move Over, Notre Dame

By Catherine O'Donnell

To a spectator, watching the Rams of Arlington Heights for the season opener on Saturday, was something like seeing the Rams of the World Series at Ebbets Field.

The Rams, a senior football team from the Arlington Heights High School, played 11 football games and won a total of 103 points in a big way for that opponent.

Some of the most spectacular plays of the season were made by the boys' right half in Arlington Heights. The team's quarterback was 47-0 and every one on the team got into the game.

"I have to say this," said head coach Clyde Carter, "but honestly, sometimes we had to hold the boys back. They were just an exceptional team."

"I've been in football since I was 14 years old and I've never seen a team like this. It was almost heartbreaking to see them play their last game together. Many of them will go on to the Arlington team but the Rams had everything."

The coaches of the Rams are also exceptional. Gordon of S. Highland who played for Iowa has eight children of his own who play in age from 13-year-old to 20-year-old. There are a couple of football players coming from some old ones.

Coach George Thiel of S. Highland has been working with the senior league for the last three years because he loves the game and likes to see the team to see that the boys have fun and play football.

He said, "We wanted to see them take more away from the first time, but the physical part of football. We wanted them to know that the game begins when they see the shoulders. We wanted them to see the team and I just as much as the field as they are."

The two assistant coaches are Mike and Don of S. Highland and the coach of S. Highland, Jim, is the football coach and Mike is the football coach.

This year he said he would not be back for his sixth year of coaching.

"The reduction of the Mount Prospect village board in voting to withhold building permits to De Mucci and Utility is a very discriminatory, arbitrary, and unreasonable," Bloch said.

He suggested that the village stop all building, or work with the Sanitary District or Elk Grove Village, rather than try to force Utility to build the lift station.

"The village now has a case against the Utility company before a hearing officer of the Illinois Commerce Commission. If the village wants a lift station, let the ICC order it," Bloch said.

"The village has no business denying building permits which De Mucci wants when the dispute is between Utility and the village."

Don Lamm, who has enough about the work of Roy and the team, said he was glad to see the boys' right half in Arlington Heights. The team's quarterback was 47-0 and every one on the team got into the game.

Dear Kid:

Tought it the time you learn about America and democracy is now. This is the night you put on your best foot, or at least a rubber mask, and meet the neighbors.

This is the night the younger generation learns about its own, a valuable lesson for participation in the future. During these times, if you grow up to be a school hoodlum or a leader of the village crowd you will not be income taxes you know that the difference between profit and loss is necessary to how much money is available from Springfield and Washington.

The very prices are going up, you have had to pay a local bank for gold or bread.

A lot of candidates are going to the polls on the platform that they can get higher heads than the other fellow. If you fill a headband around on Halloween it will be a good incentive for the election.

The school record is really for little kids. Many people are amazed by the tests. They get frightened if the words is told as they are, so maybe you should just something words like UNICEF, or just stand around on the corner and watch the cars speed pumpkins.

Halloween is not as much fun as they were, but in the old days the kids went to the store for the first time. It would always get the same fellow's wagon behind them, they'd be a year older.

The kids have stopped keeping windows, too. There were

Vantage Point

Vandalism and Halloween are synonymous. Vandalism this day, which should be a festive occasion, is used by their foolishly ignorant people who have done nothing to them.

Both Menst Prospects Police Chief, Neilson and Arden Hughes Chief Bill Childers have issued warnings that vandals will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

With Halloween falling on a Monday, police have had two extra nights of hectic work in many young people turned up Saturday and Sunday for today's festivities.

Extra policemen have been working in both communities to make certain that innocent breaks do not turn into malicious mischief.

What happens when a vandal is caught?

Too often, he receives a slap on the wrist and is sent back on the street before the policeman takes the offender to court.

Chief Edmund and Menst Prospects Detective Joseph Bopp have some definite ideas as to what should happen to vandals—especially the malicious type.

Menst Prospects has been especially hard hit recently by vandals who have caused much damage and destruction to their property.

ALTHOUGH police have made no arrests in the two most recent cases involving vandals, they are confident that they will solve the crimes.

"We are on the streets all the way with the defuncts," Chief Edmund said.

"But just how far can you go," Sgt. Bopp asked. "If you get caught, you'll be in jail for 30 days. If you get caught, you'll be in jail for 30 days. If you get caught, you'll be in jail for 30 days."

"Too often, it appears that the courts use supervision as an answer to all problems. It's gotten to be a joke among the kids," Bopp said.

"We have had a lot of cases where a kid goes to supervision four or five times. Sure, there's a chance the first time but then crackdown. That's the answer to the problem."

Edmund said that is difficult to punish the youngsters effectively for such things as carter violations. "You can't send them to jail. We're not going to let a job among the kids work or so and they laugh at us. We haven't got a staff large enough to check every kid every day."

THE MENST Prospects chief, a veteran of 17 years in police work, believes that the answer might be in helping the parents of carter violators—one of the potential vandals—in the pocketbook.

"If the parents know it was going to cost them $200 if their son or daughter was picked up again, they'd be a lot more careful," Bopp said.

DESPITE the fact that the vandals who have plagued the Menst Prospects area, Bopp is proud of his small detective division's record. "We have a big 'cheer' of us," he said.

In addition to the sergeant, two officers, Richard Vay and Robert Barone, are assigned to the detective force.

"When we solve a crime and the courts follow up with certain punishment, these crimes will begin to decrease," Bopp said.

Conclusive voting apparently has been secured in Illinois and has served the general well. But this time the vote has been described there, the Republican candidate for

Furthermore, any candidate who is not a member of the party of the opposition party supports the constitutional principle of minority representation through

There's Much In a Name

Most voter attention at the Nov. 8 general election has been focused on the part of the office ballot. Blue Ballot calling for revisions of the state's revenue article.

Seven voters realize that they will be presented with a second proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution, also in Blue Ballot form.

The proposed amendment updates a segment of Illinois law that has been a part of the state's political structure since the Constitution was originally drafted.

It simply states that county treasurers and county sheriffs may succeed themselves in office.

Under current law, a county sheriff or county treasurer may serve only one year term and then its either out to political nature or treasurer's office for which he may not be as well qualified.

The reason for the law, in the 1800's, was a good one. There just simply not the mechanical controls to prevent malfeasance on the part of the office holder.

Today, things are much different. Treasurers' offices are strictly advisory. And the responsibilities of the sheriff's office are spelled out by statute.

Both jobs are complex, complicated and require a lot of administrative skill, especially in larger counties. It appears to us that the office holder to one term is to deprive the voter of the chance to vote for the best qualified candidate.

If a candidate is elected sheriff or treasurer, and if he does a good job for four years, we see no reason why he should not run for a second term.

If the candidate has been a bad treasurer or sheriff, the voters can remove him from office.

We urge a "Yes" vote on this blue ballot.

Experts in the field—the bankers themselves—give the proposed amendment the green light. They say that the bill, if approved, will provide the public with definite protection against unscrupulous

If the bankers themselves—the ones to be most directly affected by the new regulatory body approve of the bill, we can be assured that they do not consider it a bad idea.

The Banking Amendments has a broad base of bipartisan support. Included on the list of endorser are Gov. Otto Kar-

Day AT HOME

Monday, October 31, 1966

This contemporary day at home is being exhibited by The Designer's Shop of Pastern Interiors, Arlington Heights, through Nov. 12 at the Home Furnishings Fair.

A Handsome Mixture of Elements

The Designer's Shop of Pastern Interiors, Arlington Heights, has a display at the Home Furnishings Fair being held through Nov. 12 in the National Design Center, Marina City.

The display consists of two room settings, a day or night lounge and a dining room. It is among 34 displays shown in the public by members of the Chicago Retail Furniture Assn. The contemporary design is an eclectic mixture of elements — 17th Century Spanish, contemporary Scandinavian, 1930's period and up.

The room, designed by Arthur E. Pastern Jr. of The Designer's Shop, features a Mexican handmade and hand-carved secretary of 17th Century Spanish styling executed with oak. Other furnishings include a round swivel lounge chair upholstered in suede and an open-arm chair of Swedish lounge variety in suede framed with oak.

The room's rug is a shaggy Greek import woven of Australian sheep wool. Also used are accessories of mixed origin, modern and Old World, worry chestnut shelving and a Plexiglas chest set table.

The second setting features a dining table and chairs of polished rosewood from Sweden, an oriental rug and a modern light fixture made of aluminum alloy.

Music will be provided by the Twilighters. Tickets are available in church after Sunday masses or by calling Kay Kelle, 392-2228 or Dan Thomas, 392-2044.

O Da Kos Take A Hay Ride

Nearly 100 Camp Fire Girls of Rolling Meadows took a hayride recently in wagon rented from the Lovers Ranch in Palestine.

In other Camp Fire activities, fourth-grade members of O Da Kos had a Halloween party Thursday in the home of their co-sponsors, Mrs. Harold Smith of Calverton, Spaulding of Chicago and Mrs. C. L. Smith of Rolling Meadows. Their guardian is Mrs. L. Verne Hugel.

V.F.W. Dance To Benefit Coronets

The V.F.W. Post of Arlington Heights will conduct a dinner and dance Saturday, Nov. 5 to benefit the Coronets, girls' golf team at Arlington High School.

The event will be held 5 to 9 p.m. in the V.F.W. Post at Northwest Hwy. and Yale. A band will play for dancing.

Tickets are available from Coronets and VFW members. Mrs. W.E. Norris, event chairman, CL 3432, or at the door.

Zeta Tau Alphas Wrap-Up Plans

New ideas for gifts and wrappings will be presented to members of the northwest suburban alumnae group of Zeta Tau Alpha at a Tuesday meeting in the home of Mary Lou Hockmeyer, 707 Sandy Ln., Des Plaines 439-4755.

Eye Stoppers

If basic structure, lots of ridging and close work and the moonbeams stare seem to have diminished the size of your eyes, you can do something about it.

It will make them appear bigger and wider, block out the outside world and give you a modern, futuristic look.

By stopping the use of eye-contacts and mirrors, you can make, you'll open your eyes and give them a wider look.

Horoscope

TUESDAY

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) - Not a good time for taking on new projects. Direct your energy toward the completion of several matters left hanging too long.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) - As stressful day for the Sagittarius who recognizes a flame in his own nature. To know your limitations is to choose a good wife.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) - Make whatever suggestions you please - but do so in a gentle manner. Harshness will only gain you enemies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) - You may very well realize an unexpected return on a long-term investment. Share your good fortune and you may find that it multiplies.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) - Dealings with others should be put off until the afternoon hours. Morning is a time for being alone in a search for answers.

ARIES (March 22 - April 20) - Consider the consequences of your proposed action on others - especially young family members - before finally making up your mind.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) - Make an effort to gain some hours alone. You need time to think over your present situation before arriving at any conclusion.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) - Avoid putting all your eggs in one basket. Don't let several people who may be able to help you finish your project.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) - An unexpected event may bring you new joy. Don't hesitate to take advantage of an opportunity to improve your position.

LEO - July 24 - Aug. 23) - Concentrate on your main goal today. The Leo who spreads himself too thin may find his chances fading to nothing.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) - Business matters may keep you from fulfilling a social goal at this time. Your loss, however, may well prove your ultimate gain.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) - You can prevent a setback to your career through your own activity. Make an effort to exchange ideas with one in authority.

Delay in Federal Funds Halts Headstart Classes

By JACK A. VANDERBILT

Operation Headstart, including 200 children in Washington, D.C., and 200 in Arlington Heights, Ill., temporarily halted because federal funds to finance the program have failed to arrive.

Head start classes in Washington, D.C., and in Arlington Heights, Ill., were held Thursday in five locations throughout the area.

Headstart is the four-to-five-year-old children of the Washington County Opportunity Center (NORWESCO). The program was formed in October, 1965, after Headstart was established in the ground through a small program in Elmhurst, Ill., by Shirley Shedd, D.C.

This year, Headstart expected to have 200 children in Washington, D.C., and 200 in Arlington Heights, Ill.

Headstart is the four-to-five-year-old children of the Washington County Opportunity Center (NORWESCO).

The program is aimed toward children from 3 to 5 years old who come from economically or educationally disadvantaged families. Basically, the income of the family is determining if a family is eligible.

A family could have more than $1,000 income and still be eligible.

There are seven programs such as the NORWESCO one, reaching an estimated 1,500 preschool children in the Chicago area.

NORWESCO said that it is not sure when the federal funds will arrive.

When NORWESCO's current operation from first to seventh, it is hoped to relocate its center closer to what Headstart officials describe as "problem areas" in the four townships.

Headstart said that while the program is not sure when the federal funds will arrive, it is not sure when the federal funds will arrive.

United Fund Collects $13,000

The United Fund collected more in its one night campaign last week than it did in its entire residential drive last year.

William Poffe, United Fund general chairman, said almost $11,000 was collected during one evening, or about $1000 more than was collected in the entire residential drive in 1965.

More than 1,100 volunteers knocked on doors during the evening.

The $11,000 raised the residential campaign total to $24,000, or more than 80 per cent of its goal.

"The results are really encouraging," Poffe said, "I'm delighted about the one night campaign." United Fund President John Gillen said.

"Next year I'm sure we will be able to do even better," he said.

BOTH United Fund executives are confident that their $27,420 goal will be met.

The campaign is professional, educational, government and special gifts divisions do as well, it is a new thing," Gillen said.

The pledges from these sections have not been totaled yet, but should be by the end of the week.

The $27,420 goal would meet the entire United Fund budget for 1966.

Police Say Less Trick, More Treat

Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows police last night say less trick, more treat.

Pranksters and vandals, but not serious criminals, are the focus of reports of serious vandalism.

Arlington Heights police announced that they had handled 200 complaints last night, but said that most of them involved minor acts of vandalism such as the smashing of pumpkins or the overturning of trash cans.

Citizens Voice Opposition to License Center

People who live near the Wagon Shopping Center say they are not in favor of a license center.

"I'm not sure that more people have said the plan than actually said 'no,'" said Illinois Dr. said.

All of the people contacted by the newspaper said that they have discussed the license center with their neighbors.

The biggest fear expressed by the neighbors was that the license center would drive through the neighborhood.

"We have heard of this before," said one neighbor. "It's a lot of money that's being spent on a license center that's not needed."

"We've got to have a lot of money that's being spent on a license center that's not needed."

DONALD RUMSFELD was born and raised in the 13th District, attended Winnetka public schools, and graduated from New Trier High School and Northwestern University. He decided to go to the U.S. Congress in 1962. He was a Navy pilot and flight instructor, and an investment broker. He also served on the staffs of two Republican Congressmen in Washington, D.C.

He currently serves on the House Committee on Science and Astronautics and the Committee on Economic Operations, the Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information, and as the ranking Republican on the Subcommittee on Legal and Monetary Affairs. In July, 1966, he was also named to the House Republican Policy Committee which formulates day-to-day policy for House Republicans.

Congressman Rumsfeld is the wife Joyce, and their two daughters, Mary and Valerie, live in Glenview.

Congressman Rumsfeld Reports

"As your Congressman for the past four years, I have voted on more than 3,600 bills and resolutions which have come before the Congress.

"In our representative system, it is important that a Congressman know the views of his constituents. I have actively sought your counsel through the National Issues Poll conducted by our Washington office. Through the Rumsfeld Reports' letters, the weekly Radio Reports, and in person, I have made every effort to keep you advised of my positions and views on the work of Congress. On such issue before Congress I have conscientiously attempted to vote in the best interests of the nation as well as our district.

"While the details of my voting record are always available, it is difficult and time-consuming for a citizen to examine every facet of a Congressman's record. And, it is unlikely that any would have voted exactly the same on all issues. What is important is that voters of the 13th District know and understand what the sum total of my record stands for. In terms of over-all beliefs and goals for our country.

"Domestically, I have consistently supported programs designed to revitalize the principles of individual opportunity and responsibility. In this regard I co-sponsored the Human Investment Act, designed to find ways through private enterprise to train the unemployed and unskilled for the demands of our complex and changing society. I have supported reasonable civil rights legislation, opposed government competition with private enterprise, introduced measures to combat air and water pollution, attempted to keep the tax burden down, opposed excessive federal spending and resisted the inflationary pressures so harmful to our citizens.

"In the area of foreign affairs, I have supported measures designed to assure United States military superiority and to strengthen Free World alliances, and to reach meaningful international understanding through the United Nations and bi-lateral diplomacy. Viet Nam is a new kind of war. Guns, planes, and ships are only part of what is needed. We must also fight with logic, education and technical know-how. As a member of the Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information, I went to Viet Nam earlier this year to investigate waste and mismanagement of our non-military U.S. aid funds. Our Subcommittee's findings and recommendations have already led to specific reforms and substantial dollar savings.

"An informed public is the only way government by the people can endure. For this reason I have fought government secrecy and manipulation of the news and am proud to have been part of the team that pushed through the long overdue 'Freedom of Information' Bill. This Act gives every citizen the right to know what is going on in government.

"Our District, with its unique reservoir of interest, education, and experience, has an unusual opportunity and, indeed, an obligation, to help provide leadership and direction for the Nation. If such a District does not assume this responsibility, where then may we look for it?

"I ask your continued interest and support so that together we may prove the 13th District with a strong voice in the affairs of our Government."

No Word on Mail Change: Dodge

Arlington Heights Postmaster Virginia Dodge says she has not received word from the postmaster general concerning an order that would give suburban residential areas four-day mail delivery.

The order, reported by Ray, would require (R-2) last week, would and read-time each mail service in several areas of Arlington Heights, Elmhurst, Evanston, and Elmhurst Village, and several other areas. Dodge said her office cannot implement the order until it is approved by the postmaster general.

The Arlington Heights delivery system was originally set up in new subdivisions that were intended to be self-sufficient, she said.

Under the system mailmen deliver letters and packages to each mailbox. If a change order is made, letters will be delivered by a walking mailman and packages will be delivered by truck.

Mrs. Dodge said the change-over would get approximately 100,000 mail pieces an additional of more post-mailers (R-2) last week, would and read-time each mail service in several areas of Arlington Heights, Elmhurst, Evanston, and Elmhurst Village, and several other areas.

Rabbi, Clergymen on Panel

Rabbi Mark Shapiro of the Congregation B'nai Shalom, 4400 N. Lincoln Ave., will be the principal speaker for the New Horizons lecture series sponsored by St. Victor High School in Arlington Heights.

Rabbi Shapiro and a panel of four clergymen will speak in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.

Panel members include: Rev. Ronald Kirk, Congregational United Church of Christ; Rev. Donald Fitch, pastor, Our Savior Lutheran Church; Rev. Joel P. Henning, St. Simon Episcopal Church; and Rev. Stephen Morgan of Queen of the Apostles Church in Elk Grove Village.

Rabbi Shapiro will speak on "Jewish Movements About the Economic Movement."

He was graduated from the University of Chicago with a bachelor's degree in liberal arts and received a bachelor of Hebrew letters with honors from Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati.

He is active in Reform Jewish youth programs and was one of the National Leadership Institute for Youth this summer.

"What do we really know about youth?" is the challenge posed by the "J. Lincoln Youth" film. It is 10 p.m. on WBBM-TV, Channel 7.

The program will use a test format, with questions ranging from definitions of situations that occur in the film each section. It will probe the viewer's memory, experience — and perhaps his conscience — to find out what he really does know about youth. Many questions will point out mistakes made by thousands of voters that invalidate their ballots.

SEOUL, Korea — President Johnson — in his last full day in Asia — ranged over the South Korean countryside. He was cheered from a U.S. Army movie hall to a dusty parade field to a hillside cooperative village. He was cheered all along the way. At one point, he told American troops near the Korean war truce line that the U.S. is stopping aggression in Asia because — he added — "We would rather die out there than at home."

Meet Hi-Low's Ham

By Catherine O'Donnell

The closest place to an old-fashioned neighborhood store in this area just has to be the Hi-Low in the Arlington Market. The pleasant people who work there are a reflection of manager Carl Peterson who is never too busy to pass the time of day.

It is also a great news source for a hungry Day by Day. Yesterday a few customers who were looking for a ham, found it in the cold meat department. The ham was a good one, and the customer, Lennie, had been sent for a while building pimento and all of his friends wanted to be him know that they missed him.

Ken Griffin, one of the best operators, instead of phoning home when he had a message to deliver, he just ran out to his car in the parking lot and talked to his wife in Burlington from his car set to his home area.

During his lunch hour yesterday, he was talking to a ham in Miami. When they had finished talking, he was just sitting in the car when he received a signal that a ham wanted to talk to him. The customer was in Phoenix and they talked for a while exchanging pleasantries about the weather, the cost of living and the rising meat prices.

The ham never got their last name. So it was Ken and Bert, and the ham mentioned the high cost of meat.

Well, you can't blame the meat. We know who to blame. The light dawned for Ken. He said and discussed.

and that he was talking to none other than Barry Goldwater. "I told him I had just seen him last week on the Johnny Carson show. He was very nice. It was really a thrill. I was in the kitchen with a famous person."

Ken said that he was a WASP.

A New Group Mrs. Gerald Moore of S. Orleans whose son Chip went to Viet Nam recently reports that she received many calls as a result of the article written about him in this column. Most of the calls were from people who also were in or on their way to Viet Nam.

Lorraine and five of the women are going to get together and form a new group. It will be an informal organization and the members will compare notes on what they hear from their sons in Viet Nam. "We all feel that we have so much in common," said Lorraine. "There are so many unanswered questions for people. If anyone is interested, have them call me at CI 5-1757."

Energy to Spare The president of the Young Republicans Club, Carol Vay Holmstrom of Whiting Township, is happy to say that the TAKS (the two Republicans) have been re-elected. She said David Flarty of Whiting who has been representing their area are having a difficult time keeping to with all that energy.

"If the adults were only as enthusiastic, we'd have it made, Canada."

All last week's meeting, Bernice Zinkgraf of Prospect Heights was elected president. Vice president is Gary Heffner, all of Prospect Heights, secretary is Elaine Wroblewski of N. Dearborn and treasurer is Allison Reed of E. Euclid in Arlington Heights.

The issue are performing admirable service to the hard pressed campaigners. They pass out election folders at shopping centers and house to house. They do much convincing to get people out to vote.

"We've always had excellent reports about their conscientious behavior," said Mrs. Vay Holmstrom.

The next meeting will be followed by a Central party. It will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 7 p.m. in the Republican Headquarters in the Arlington Market. All local groups are invited to attend. If anyone needs a ride there can be reached at CI 4-9991.

Their ages range from 13 through 19.

Pack 323 is sponsored by the North School PTA and meets at the school every Friday, Aug. 8, 9 and 10 year old boys interested in joining the activities are asked to call Charles R. # Beauty in a Bar of Soap

When Judy Johns of Arlington Heights celebrated her 20th birthday recently, she received an unusual birthday present from her grandmother.

The gift was an exquisitely carved bracelet with a bird inside.

Not so unusual?

The carving was made of Ivory soap.

Judy's grandmother, Mrs. Frieda Schuster of Chicago, started making soap sculptures 30 years ago, at the age of 50.

It is an interview in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles (Grant) Johns of 1017 N. Douglass, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Schuster told how her unusual hobby began.

"A niece was visiting me," she recalled, "and she asked for a bar of soap to take to school."

"My niece said she needed the soap to carve something, and that gave me an idea."

"For years," Mrs. Schuster continued, "I'd been making line sculptures, vases, figurines, paper flowers and vases for presents and for sale."

"So I thought that soap-carving sounded like a good new idea for making things," she said.

Mrs. Schuster, when bright eyes and pretty attitudes belie her age, uses a custom pocket knife for her sculptures. Other tools she sometimes needs are miniature instruments.

Her creations include vases with plastic flowers and some animals.

"I like cats and lambs, especially," she said. "Her hands moved rapidly as she worked on a fresh bar of Ivory. Inside the soap, a sculpture was about to be formed."

Mrs. Frieda Schuster works on a soap sculpture in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Johns of Arlington Heights.

Toni Ehringer Bride Of Stewart Rogers

Miss Toni Ehringer of Palatine became the bride of Stewart Alton Rogers, also of Palatine, in a ceremony recently at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Palatine.

The church was decorated with flowers provided by wedding guests from Hawaii, and music carried out the island theme.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lewis Ehringer of 134 N. Cady. Mrs. Stewart C. Rogers, 377 S. Plum Grove, is the mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. John Eichler performed the double-ring ceremony, held at 2 p.m. Sept. 10.

THE FORMER Miss Ehringer, given in marriage by her father, made her flower-throwing debut with a long length of ivory white satin with an Empire waist, long sleeves and an A-line skirt.

She carried white roses, and her bridesmaids were Mrs. Monique Lee Rogers, Gretchen McElroy of Palatine, Elsie Swenson of Chicago and Mrs. William A. Rogers of Chicago.

The bridegroom was attended by Cleveland Bering, son of Bonnie in best man. Ushers were Richard Erdos and Gregory Keller, both of Palatine. William A. Rogers, Carpenter and Robert Bering, the bridegroom's brother.

A pretty parade and feast-and-dance were in store for the women of Both Tivah Sisseton and the men of "Early Bird" on Monday, Nov. 14.

The event will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. at Both Tivah Temple, 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates. Tea and dessert will be served.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. Norma Shulist, membership chairman, 437-2582. Women may bring children.

Mr. Harold Berg was organist and Stephen Marshall of Honolulu, Hawaii, sang an island song honoring the mothers of the bride and bridesmaids as they were escorted to their seats. Drs. Koski of Kona accompanied her.

Flowers were Bride of paradise, tataricum, it leaves, papyrus and orchids.

ABOUT 125 reception guests at the Arlington Carrousel were given hands out of flowers in from Hawaii. The bride wore a white carnation lei, the groom a red carnation lei, traditional at Hawaiian wedding.

Music was provided by several Hawaiian friends of the couple.

The couple honeymooned on the Hawaiian islands of Oahu and Maui.

Mrs. Muller Named UNICEF Representative

MR. AND MRS. STEWART A. ROGERS

Mrs. John Muller of Arlington Heights has been named local representative to sell UNICEF growing cards, non-profit games and calendars.

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is a program which benefits mostly children and mothers in more than 100 countries. It has won a Nobel Peace Prize.

Mrs. Muller, a member of the League of Women Voters, reports that in 1966, the year of UNICEF's 20th anniversary, it is hoped that a birthday gift exceeding last year's proceeds of $1 million will be realized through the sale of cards.

The Arlington Heights League has sponsored sale of the cards for several years in the area and last year received a certificate of merit for fostering better understanding of goals.

Last year's funds, said Mrs. Muller, provided equipment and drugs for 10,000 maternal and child health centers, 1,200 vehicles for mobile health teams, and enough penicillin to cure 20 million children of dysentery.

Proceeds from a single 10-card box at $1.25 will provide a daily grant of milk for a week for 40 children and enough vaccine to protect 60 children against tuberculosis.

Thirteen designs donated by artists from Argentina, Canada, France, Germany, Haiti, Hungary, Japan, Lebanon and the U. S. are included in the 1966 UNICEF card offering.

The UNICEF item may be seen by calling Mrs. Muller, 922-9335. She currently has sample items and will show them through the first part of December.

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) - It may well be time for a change. Consider family members if you're prone to exaggeration as to what to do next.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) - Don't let a display of ignorance kill your chance for advancement. When in doubt, say and do as little as possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) - Don't let duty act as a lever on a matter of vital importance to your personal happiness. To put off a solution may be to forfeit one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) - Dispute may make the heart grow fonder - but it isn't likely to do much for business. Stick close to where the action is.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 21) - You may not get the cooperation you expect today so you would be wise to plan on handling business affairs on your own.

ARIES (March 22 - April 20) - Listen to one who has had experience where you have had little or none. You may find it to your advantage not to enter too far.

Taurus (April 21 - May 21) - Don't be so consistently about business affairs that you allow a friend to be ignored in a time of need.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) - Meet the reminder now before you're gone so far that you would be at a loss to request it to go on. Take stock of yourself.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22) - Correct mistakes as you discover them. To allow errors to pile up may be to do out on the profits in the future.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 23) - Just assured that you will be able to move home at a later time. Don't push too hard for completion at the close of the game.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) - Reason may give you the right answer - but a lot of emotion can add spice to a lot of otherwise only common sense.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) - Make an effort to overlook minor infractions of the rules. To be too demanding now could cause you to lose out in the future.

WITH DALE NORMAN

THE DAVE CASEY everyone around here knows is a physical education teacher and basketball coach at Wheeling High School. But for a smattering of semi-professional football fans and television hook writers, there is a different Casey. He's the pain catching star of the Elmhurst Travelers in the Central States semi-pro league.

The two Caseys are all wrapped up in the muscular frame of a man who just can't get enough football—a 34-year-old Northern Illinois University graduate who last year he would wrap his life around a fat pro contract. Casey came to Wheeling last year with a bright four-year varsity career as an end and flanker at Northern behind him. He took to his job as Frank Miller's sophomore assistant eagerly, but somehow it wasn't enough.

"I WAS getting a little shaky standing on the sidelines at games and watching the kids work out during the week," Casey admits. "Frank Miller played for the Travelers last year, and he suggested I try using my spare of my energy on semi-pro ball. The season was already half over, but the Travelers said they would take me anyway."

It turned out to be a good move for the club and for Casey. Although he played only five games of a ten-game season he missed the league's scoring championship by two points. Casey thrugs off that, though.

"We had a real good receiver that year, a guy who had been all-league quite a bit," Casey said. "So they always had double coverage on him, and that left me open."

The league knew better than to leave Casey open a lot this year, but it couldn't keep him out of the end zone anyway. The Travelers finished their season last Thursday night with Travelers' Practice eight hours out of his week, and about four hours of his weekend are spent on games—more, of course, if his team is on the road.

Lined up on court reporters are part-time athletes like the Bureau chief of police, a speaking of college students, and an FBI agent.

His roommate, North UI graduate, is the only other coach on the league. He is Tom Mann who works for Crystal Lake High School on his regular job.

There isn't much in it for the guys who play, Casey explains. They get a jacket similar to the letter jackets athletes get in college, but there is no money involved. Finally, they just a group of young men who love the game.

"I WOULD say about half of the players in the league had some college experience," Casey said. "Some of them had pro offers, but there aren't many who are playing to attract professional scouts." Casey himself got letters from the Miami Dolphins, the Baltimore Colts, and the New Continental League when in late Northern, but he said nothing came of them. He isn't sure he would do it his part-time man over the last two years brought him a good professional offer.

"There I would like the money and a chance to play with the best," Casey explained. "But I mean doing at Wheeling when I want to school for. It would be an awfully tough decision to make."

Casey is not in any particular hurry to leave the league he is playing in now. "I'm divine better football now than I ever have, and I have never played with a more bunch of guys than I have met with the Travelers," he said.

"IT IS really amazing," he went on. "They get-up-and-down for games just like any college team. In fact, they function more so in the first year than I have ever played for. I know of a few guys who have turned down pro offers simply because they wanted to stay in this league."

There may be some changes in store for Casey and his team, though. The possibility of a season's overtime. "There is a good chance that the Travelers will have to break up next season because they are losing money," Casey said.

"OTHER Teams in the league can draw 1,000 or 4,000 people at every game, but we're lucky to get 300 or 400. Most of the teams have their own area and their own following. We are competing with the Bears or the area colleges and high schools every time we play," he continued.

Casey is anticipating a change in his personal life too. He will be married in December. But he says that won't affect his playing. "The possibility of the Travelers' folding won't either, since he would be a welcome addition to the camp of any team in the league."

Dave Casey isn't too short on gay playing football yet. He is having two more games.

Prospect Slates Prospect Banquet 2 New Marks

At least two new names will be added to the Northern Illinois football record book during 1964. One of that of right end, Mike Grieman, who will be named to the team for the season as a senior. The other is the new recruit, a player who will be named to the team as a freshman. The player who will be named to the team as a freshman is a player who will be named to the team as a freshman.

son, Greg Glade, Tom Leggett, and Charles Ven-

son, Bruce Gluck, back row, Tom Elkhart, Keith Mat-threw, Pete Dunne, and Bill Allen.

A Warm Smile for Chilly November

November is a month of frigid winds, glimmering snowflakes and frosty windows; a month of rosy cheeks and chilled toes. November is a time of cozy sweaters, Linda Norris, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris, 732 S. Ridge, has been selected to represent the month of November in Arlington High School's National Forensics League Calendar.

Linda, a junior, is a regular on the school's Senior Honor Roll and participates in many after-school activities. She is a member of the Cornets, Stage Crew Club, Triple 'S' (an honorary girl's service organization), National Honor Society (an honorary scholastic organization), Tri 'M' (national honorary music society), National Thespian Society (a national honorary dramatic society) and the Harmonettes (an honorary girl's vocal ensemble). Linda's hobbies include playing the piano, swimming and knitting.

The calendar girls are chosen on the basis of looks, personality, and individual contributions to the school.

Delicatessen Man Hears Bitter News

Building Found Lacking

By BILL PETERSON

There was a lot of things Preston Patch did not like about the delicatessen at 3 J. Campbell when he bought it last February.

"But we just had to make do with what we had and with the changes whenever we could afford to," he said.

Patch and his wife tiled the floor, painted the walls with a vegetable orange, and when installed a soda fountain and rearranged shelves.

In July they added a carry-out service.

"Everything was working out real well. We were happy with the carry out and everything was going fine," he said.

THAT WAS until two weeks ago when the village announced that it was taking Patch's Pastry.

Sanitarian Richard Dawson advised Patch that he must make major building structural changes or have his business license revoked.

The building lacks proper ventilation, laundry and sink and its electrical system is in need of repair, Dawson said.

He ordered the delicatessen's kitchen closed because of the inadequate fire escape at the rear of the building, but the rest of the building need to remain open.

"We had no idea that these changes were needed when we bought the place. We had the public health director over and what else could we do?"

"We thought, we could get by for at least awhile."

PATCH'S black hair is chopped short and peppered with gray. He has four daughters.

"Now this is a setback but I'm looking for a new place now," he said.

"You can be certain our new place is going to have all the sanitation's blessings. We're going to have less than every place before we move in."

Preston Patch plans to vacate his Pastry at 3 J. Campbell. Delicatessen has occupied the building for 35 years.

Library Board Gets $268,055 in Aid

State Approves Full Request

Arlington Heights will receive $268,055 in federal funds to help in the construction of a new library. The grant was announced yesterday by Mrs. Mary Ewalt, head librarian.

It represents the full amount requested by the library board.

While the money will be used for the construction of the new library, the full amount will also be used for the purchase of books and other materials.

The grant was a controversial subject for library board members. Some members were opposed to the grant because they felt it would be a waste of money.

Others felt it was a good idea because it would help the library to serve the community better.

Some library board members expressed fears that the library would lose its autonomy if it accepted a grant of a large sum of money.

According to the plan, the library qualified for federal funds because it was serving a population of more than 10,000 people in five locations.

TAXPAYERS approved the $268,000 bond issue on June 15 in a program to replace the present library at 112 N. Belmont with a new building on N. Division between Federal and Fremont.

The new building will be a four-story structure and will have a total area of 100,000 square feet.

Caramel, Pecans Liven Up This French Toast

Now that you're spending more time indoors because of the weather and have more time for cooking, liven up your family's breakfast.

Bread provides important B vitamins and iron necessary to prevent anemia. This recipe for French toast also adds a little sugar for energy.

CARAMEL PECAN OVEN FRENCH TOAST —
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons chopped pecans
1 egg beaten
1/3 cup milk
4 slices enriched bread

Combine butter, brown sugar and pecans in the bottom of an ungreased 8-inch square pan. Combine beaten egg and milk in a shallow bowl. Dip bread into egg-milk mixture, turning to coat both sides of bread. Place bread over sugar mixture. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 20 minutes. Let bread stand in pan 1 minute after removing from oven. Lower pan to remove bread so that caramel-pecan side is up. (To use as a dessert, serve warm, topped with a scoop of ice cream.)

It's a Pleasure to be Framed

Women who wear glasses are in danger of being framed.

It's a pleasant danger, though, as we are the most attractive people around. Choosing properly shaped glasses can make all the difference in a woman's appearance, in any species-wear-or-know.

Gloria LeVay Drouin, a frame designer for Little's, suggests that women choose frames with hairdo, age and face shape in mind.

As a tip for the girl who wears both glasses and bangs, she advises that the bangs be cut well above the eyebrows.

THE MATURE WOMAN with a triangular face might well choose a clear, lightly lined frame that has a slight winged extension at side of the top of the frame.

If her face is oblong, she can achieve a modern young look with a clear crystal frame accented at the top by a dark, upturned design.

The round-faced woman probably should wear a frame with a square look and deep lens shape. And if her face is square, she should choose an oval frame with small proportions.

The young girl with a round face can wear an upturned design to break up the square face. And the teen with a square face would do well to select an oval frame. The oval shape will offset the squareness of the face.

HERPES SIMPLEX #2

Recent medical papers attest to still another curative power of simple aspirin — the ability to possibly prevent attacks of cold sores. Cold sores, (Herpes Simplex) are the fluid filled blisters that spread from one side to another on the skin. This disease is caused by a virus infection which often remains inactive, triggered into eruption by fever, emotional upsets and heavy colds.

But, What Happened to Hots?

The Trend? A Dressier You

Hats are disappearing from the female fashion scene, says the proprietor of an Arlington Heights clothing store for women.

She is Lee (Mrs. Richard) Berach of Maison de Romey, Inc. which opened a little more than 10 years ago at 41 S. DuSable. In present location.

"Few wear hats any more," Mrs. Berach said. "I hope some day they'll come back."

Mrs. Berach has noticed another, and perhaps contradictory, change in the fashion climate is her clients at the specialty shop — a trend to dressier clothes.

"It's kind of nice to see people dressed up, too," she said. When the Maison opened, sportswear was the featured apparel.

Today, though, Mrs. Berach specializes in casual dress and formal clothing. The shop also carries lingerie, some men's and sports clothing and, in Mrs. Berach's words, "just about everything a woman could want."

CLOTHING at the shop comes mainly from New York, California and Italy and varies in size from 3 to about 20. One of three full-line saleswomen at Maison de Romey opened the store in 1962.

of clothing — Mrs. Berach's daughter, 19-year-old, and formal clothing. The shop also carries lingerie, some clothing store before coming here," Mrs. Berach revealed, "and couldn't find a thing in her size. So we began ordering clothes in that size."

"Our small size have sold well," she said. "It used to be that small women had a hard time finding clothes, but things are being made especially for them now."

MRS. Berach, a 22-year resident of Arlington Heights, started the shop after spending many years as a full-time bookkeeper and mother. She previously had been employed as a buyer in Klipf's Dept. Store in Skokie, O. a Marshall Field and Co. store.

"Other ladies taught you how to be in those days," she said. "I've said I had that training."

Her other assistants in the store Mrs. Angelina Hansen, who has worked there eight years, and Mrs. Connie Spencer.

To Match Every Mood

LEFT—rich velvet will enhance the autumnal hues. Right—bright colors will add to the festive mood.

Velvet has a big thing in the fall collection, and now it has come home for the holidays.

Always a festive and elegant fabric, velvet makes the season this year in jewel tones and floral colors. The switch to color from traditional black was made possible by a new process of removing objectionable stains.

An new velvet with a closely woven surface simulates the "velvet" look to which many women objected. The new, bold velvet looks back their loveless with practicality, requiring a minimum of care. They can be placed over a steaming slip for a half hour, dried and brushed upward to its softness.

THE VELVET dress and jacket contain points the attention of the velvet. Members of the Northbrook League of Women Voters are assigned to a Wheeling precinct.

ABC contracted with the League of Women Voters for reporters who will place current phone calls to New York information.

For at-home wear, there is something is velvet to match almost any mood. The weather can give great body, size or little girl in one of this season's loquacious outfits.

Practical velvet to keep velvet out of many a middle-aged closet, is no longer a barrier. American designers are producing velvet costumes at some surprising prices below over.

Mrs. and Mr. George Malinberg, 209 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, celebrated their 50th anniversary at a dinner given recently by their children, George Jr., of Mount Prospect, Richard of Des Plaines and William of Los Gatos, Calif. The couple has eight grandchildren. The Malinbergs were married Oct. 14, 1914 and have lived in Arlington Heights since 1962.

Two Picked For TV Sampling

Two area women are working with ABC News in New York on predictions for election day.

Earlier this fall, Mrs. McInerney filed a questionnaire on the ethnic makeup of Shawneeview, a questionnaire on average income and the average family lives in the town.

Mrs. Inland is a volunteer service liaison of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters.

The Strawnwood, simple and those of other better-known precincts throughout the nation will be used to a computer for an early forecast of election returns by ABC.

The club will hold the weekly class, and features wanted for the project and will train the students products over the Kiwanis club which is in charge. The club members include residents of Elk Grove, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

Citizens Voice Opposition to License Center

People who live near the Weingate Shopping Center do not want a state driver license testing center in their neighborhood, a survey of homes in the area showed yesterday. Some even threaten to take their case to the village board of plans for the facility program further. Only one of the homeowners contacted favored putting the testing facility in the shopping center at the corner of Campbell and White Rd. Fifteen opposed it and one said she was undecided. "We've got 17 homes on our street and I don't know one who is in favor of having the testing center at Weingate," James Andrews, 224 S. Illinois Dr., said. The proposal was discussed at a village trustee committee meeting last week. Albe Kaplan, said Secretary of State Paul Porecki's office has been working for more than a year trying to locate the site in Weingate. Kaplan's firm manages the shopping center. Village residents say must travel to Libertyville, Elgin or Chicago to take their drivers test.

Thomas Hansen and John Wahl Jr., two of the three village trustees at the meeting, expressed a consensus to the proposal. The other trustee, Frank N. Palatka, who lives in the Weingate area, favored it. "I haven't detected any opposition to the center in the Weingate area or anywhere else in the village," he said. Most homeowners contacted said they had not heard of the proposal until they read it in The Day. "About nine Weingate area residents have contacted Paul Porecki since the meeting. Now he says he is reconsidering his position," he said. All of the people contacted yesterday once one said that they have discussed the drivers license testing center with neighbors. The biggest fear expressed is that the state will use the licensed drivers through residential areas.

Police Report Less Vandalism

Increased manpower and a no-nonsense policy paid off for the Mount Prospect police department Saturday and Sunday. Only minor property damage was reported. Police arrest a heavy patroling and a strict policy of dealing with vandals as deterrents to vandalism. Norman Reed, 216 Andrews Ct., reported the most serious incident. He and three on two bicycles were slashed Sunday. Earl Quist reported Sunday that someone set off a home-made flare at the north entrance of the main entrance building at Lincoln School. No damage was reported, he said. Leroy Schneider told police the antenna was broken off his white car when he parked in the rear of N. Main Saturday. The auto was parked at a house at 605 S. Sec. 200 N. Raymond Dickinson reported.

Romell Smith called police to report that he had been in from his home at 23 S. W. 10th St. on Saturday. The auto was parked in the area within two weeks, including one on Saturday.

Mayor Holds Meeting With Tavern Operators

Later Closing Hour Possible

BY JACK A. VANDERHOF

Liquor laws in Mount Prospect will be strictly enforced, Mayor Daniel Congrove told the village's retail liquor distributors at a meeting Saturday morning. Represented at the meeting were owners and license holders of the eight establishments in the village that serve liquor over the bar.

Owners of two other establishments, El Rondo and Jack Gennel's were also on hand. These taverns will be included in the village when current amendment proceedings are completed. Village Attorney Robert Moore read the Mount Prospect liquor control ordinance to the tavern operators that the village board is considering a revision of this ordinance to allow the taverns to remain open until 2 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

The last opening is prompted by a special consideration granted Gennel's which operates until 2 a.m. weekdays and 5 a.m. Sunday. Gennel was granted a one-year agreement from May, 1967, through May, 1968, because of his current operations under alcoholic beverages.

Mount Prospect tavern owners and their representatives met with Mayor Daniel Congrove and village officials Saturday morning. Purpose of the meeting, according to the mayor, was "information."

Currently, closing hours for liquor establishments are 1 a.m. on weekdays and 2 a.m. on weekends and 2 a.m. on Sunday. Congrove said the tavern operators that the village board is considering a revision of this ordinance to allow the taverns to remain open until 2 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

The last opening is prompted by a special consideration granted Gennel's which operates until 2 a.m. weekdays and 5 a.m. Sunday. Gennel was granted a one-year agreement from May, 1967, through May, 1968, because of his current operations under alcoholic beverages.

Village Wins Suit; Keeps Retention Basin

BY MAXINE TYMA

Who retains the retention basin? Judge Daniel Congrove says the Village of Arlington Heights does.

John M. Minetti of 1311 N. Hickory, developer of the Hickory Meadows subdivision, conceded a law suit against the village and the Arlington Heights Park District for denial of the retention basin on Hickory Meadows.

After five days of testimony in the Chancery Division of Circuit Court, the Judge ruled

Friday that the dedication of the basin is valid and that use of the basin for no retaining is water does not violate the dedication.

Minetti maintained that the dedication was for five years because of a conversation with Hugo Thiel, a former village attorney now deceased. The Judge said it is possible that the conversation that Thiel had in a misunderstanding and Thiel had no authority to speak for the village. If he had, it would be an agreement, Judge Congrove said, it is not binding on the village.

George Brogan, Minetti's attorney in a final plea before the judge, said the village is using a "veiled" agreement of the power of eminent domain without compensation.

"IT'S AN ICE POND today and it may be something else tomorrow. There is a broad grass field there and it may be used for other recreational purposes," Brogan said.

The Arlington Heights Park district floods the basin for ice skating in winter. Minetti maintained that this was violation of the dedication.

VILLAGE ATTORNEY Jack Siegel explained that the park district cannot sue the subdivision to keep the boundaries of the district similar to those of the village. The only other way to keep the village boundary, Siegel said, is the retaining basin, which is the dedication of the basin to the subdivision. The village proposed to have the basin dedicated to the park district as a condition of the park district's purchase of the land.

"The fact that it is flood of the winter makes it less a retention basin," Siegel said.

He said Minetti asked to have his subdivision annexed to the village and record "the benefit of the basin."

"THE LAW is perfectly clear," Siegel said. "The only way a municipal body can act is at a duly called meeting when records are kept as official minutes. There is nothing in the record of any village meeting to indicate five years use on the basin."

Minetti has been paying taxes on the basin property since 1961. Judge Congrove said he is 99 per cent clear and "since there is nothing to contradict" the judge ruled it was evidence that severance is not in the basin.

"We were given a fair trial," Brogan said Friday. "That's all we could ask for."

Building Firm To Sue Utility

The Schenckberg water and utility plants, owned and operated by Citizens Utilities of Illinois, will sue a $12,000 award against Citizens for plants in Schenckberg, Wm. County, Ill., and Ohio.

Daniel said that Illinois contracted the Schenckberg water and utility plants, which were sold to Citizens. According to Daniel, the action contracting was included an agreement that Citizens would pay certain amounts for each contract served by the utility company.

"They haven't been paying and they make us lose money," said Daniel. "We have received over $12,000 in Schenckberg, so ing" to part of Minnetonka.

SEIGEL CITED several cases and "reparable damage" which support the legal dedication position of the village. Testimony from several village engineers and a former trustee agreed that a retention basin is needed in the area to control flooding.

A test of the water revealed that it is 99 per cent clear and "since there is nothing to contradict" the judge ruled it was evidence that severance is not in the basin.

"We were given a fair trial," Brogan said Friday. "That's all we could ask for."

Mike Griesman Paces Husky Grid Triumph

Mike Griesman, a former Forest View High School football star, scored touchdowns for Northern Illinois University Saturday, as the Huskies edged Hillsdale College 16-7.

Griesman paced Northern to its fifth win in six outings as a one-yard run and a one-yard plunge. The Rolling Meadows grider also completed 12 of 25 passes Saturday for 119 yards.

Griesman has been NIU's number-one quarterback all season, having completed 70 of 133 passes for a creditable 452 percentage. He is the second-leading scorer on the Husky roster with 11 touchdowns on passes and five more rushing.

While Griesman turned on Northern's offensive machinery, another local grider sparked the DeKalb team's defensive effort. Danny Meyer of Arlington Heights intercepted four Hillsdale passes and broke up one enemy pass play near Northern's goal line in the final period. Meyer now has five interceptions for the year.

THE ONE-TIME Arlington High School star also blocked a field goal and returned a punt and a kick-off.

Northern will shoot for victory number six next Saturday in a Homecoming match against the University of Arkansas.

Utility Lawyer Tells Libel Stand

Statements made in the Oct. 21 edition of the Fairview Civic Area newsletter are the grounds for a libel suit that will be filed against the association by Fairview, Sewer and Water Co. unless a public apology is made to the company.

is made by the association, Aherm and Carpieta, the association's sewer committee chairman, he would recommend that libel suits be filed by the company in Cook County Circuit Court.

Landing said that the second paragraph of the newsletter article, "The sewer recovery would be paid enough to compensate for the long-term consequences of unsewered areas."

The company maintains that these statements are "factually untrue and it certainly cannot be argued, in view of the many public inspections made of the sewer system, that such statements were made in good faith."

Landing maintains that the statements made in the newsletter were "a malicious attempt to degrade the company before the public and state authorities (Illinois Commerce Commission)." Landing contends, "The newsletter reflects adversely on the business capacity or method of Fairview Utility Co. and so extreme language that it clearly was not presented in good faith."

CONCERNING CARPIETA's specific involvement in the controversy, Landing said that statements made by Carpieta at the Illinois Commerce Commission rate hearing of Oct. 20 were "irresponsible."

LUNDING also referred to the second paragraph of the newsletter article, "The sewer recovery would be paid enough to compensate for the long-term consequences of unsewered areas."

ICC meeting of Oct. 20 you stated to all present that the Fairview Utility Co. was lawfully operating its facilities and that it is a waste, you, your children and many citizens in the community are concerned and were still physically sick."

There are statements against the company of a crime and obviously will severely injure the trade and business of the company," Landing said.

Landing said that Carpieta's statements, "were not true at the time and are not true in my opinion, they are not only untrue but also statements which are not protected under the Constitution, but they are also of the type that the courts of this country have for years attempted to prevent."

FAIRVIEW Utility Co. does not object to individual or group criticism or discussion about its sewer system, Landing said. The company appreciates any constructive criticism which will assist in its continued efforts to improve the system. The company's attitude is demonstrated by the offer of its president, Perry Owens, to attend any meeting called by its customers.

The company, however, cannot stand by silently when false charges are made against it. It also sternly objects to statements directed to the emotions of its customers which are not supported by facts and which seriously injure the reputation and business of the company," Landing said.

BY DOLORES HAVICH
Santa is not the only one with a busy workshop. The Mount Prospect Garden Club is sponsoring an inter-club workshop in Wednesday at the Mount Prospect Community Center from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.
Mrs. Arthur Nelson, a member of the Mount Prospect club, will conduct the workshop in place of Mrs. Wiley Olson who recently moved to Texas.
Mrs. Nelson is the winner of many blue ribbon awards for her flower arrangements. She has created many lovely Christmas and holiday items including preserved, oil, leaves, garlands, apple-blossoms and original wreath designs.

Medicare Handbook Available

Medicare is still in its first 100 days and people naturally may have a number of questions.

SHOWROOM 325 N. Northwest Hwy., Palatine

HOURS: Mon.-Thurs. 9 to 5:30 Pm. Sat. 9 to 5:30 Pm.

Robert F. Moore, Mount Prospect village attorney, was among 80 judges and prosecutors who attended the 18th annual Midwest Regional Traffic Court Conference at Northwestern University School of Law in October. Participants in the five-day meeting took a close look at improvements in traffic court procedure and administration. The conference was conducted by the American Bar Assn. and Northwestern University's Traffic Institute.

This contemporary den or lounge is being exhibited by The Designer's Shop of Peurson Interiors, Arlington Heights, through Nov. 12 at the Home Furnishings Fair.

A Handsome Mixture of Elements

The Designer's Shop of Peurson Interiors, Arlington Heights, has a display at the Home Furnishings Fair being held through Nov. 12 in the National Design Center, Marina City.

The display consists of two rooms: a den or lounge and a dining room. It is among 30 displays shown to the public by members of the Chicago Refurbishers Assn.

The contemporary den or lounge is an eclectic mixture of modern, 17th Century Spanish, contemporary Scandinavian, 1930's period and op art.

The room, designed by Arthur E. Peterson Jr., of the Designer's Shop, features a Mexican handmade and hand-carved secretary of 17th Century Spanish style, accented in pine. Other furnishings include a curved velvet lounge chair upholstered in suede and an open chest of Swedish lounge variety in sande stained wood.

The room's rug is a shaggy Greek import woven of Australian sheep wool. Also used are accessories of mixed origins, modern and Old World, warm charcoal shagreen and a Plexiglas chest and table.

The second setting features a dining table and chairs of polished rosewood from Sweden, an oriental rug and a modern light fixture made of aluminum strips.

Meet Susan, Merit Scholar

Susan Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, 6915 S. 102nd, Mount Prospect, Ill. 60056, is cited for high achievement in the 1966-1967 National Merit Scholarship competition.

Sister Marie Columba of Sacred Heart of Mary High School announced that two seniors, Susan Griffin and Deborah Peller of Arlington Heights, have been named semifinalists. They are among the highest scoring students in the state of Illinois on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered last spring in 17,000 schools nationwide. More than 14,000 students were appointed across the country.

Susan graduated from St. Raymond Catholic School and has a sister and a brother, Kathleen, a sophomore at St. Mary's Notre Dame, and John, Theresa and Loretta who attend St. Raymond.

Principal, Sister Marie Columba, senior linearing, dancing, horseback riding, and social work at St. Brigid's, a Negro parish in Chicago are among the many activities which Susan enjoys. She likes to swim and water ski.

Chief Officer Alexander Blinn, (right) of the Kingston (Jamaica) Fire Brigade, exchanges views on fire department concerns with Chief Edwin Heberkamp in an informal visit to Mount Prospect Fire Station No. 2. Joining him are Gerald Heibel (left) and Desmond Thomson, both from Kingston, representatives of the Fire Safety Co. in Jamaica.

Kingston Chief Tours Fire Station Here

Chief Officer Alexander Blinn of the Kingston (Jamaica) Fire Brigade was the guest of Mount Prospect Fire Station No. 2 last week.

He met with Chief Edwin Heberkamp of the Mount Prospect fire department and toured the station. Chief Blinn was accompanied by Desmond Thomson and Gerald Heibel, both of Kingston, representatives of the Fire Safety Co. in Jamaica, the island's largest firm dealing in fire-fighting equipment.

The visitors are touring several U.S. cities in a combination business and pleasure trip. They attended the National Safety Congress and Exposition in Chicago.

Mount Prospect Fire Station No. 2, with its new building and equipment, was chosen for the visit by Robert Ellis and Robert Pool regional director and export representative of the American-Lafayette firm.

CHIEF Blinn explained that his duties in Kingston are both active and administrative and that methods used are based on those used here.

Kingston is Jamaica's capital, with seven fire fighting stations, 300 men and 25 of officers serving the half-million population.

Responsibility for fire control at Kingston Harbor is shared by its owners. He said that Kingston has the seventh largest natural harbor in the world and a fireboat is part of its department's equipment.

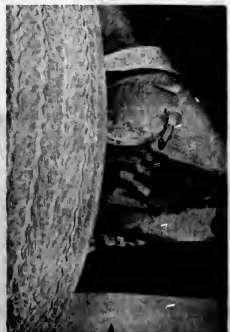

The problem of congested roads and traffic is, as he said, but added that traffic control by the Kingston police is very efficient.

Informal exchanges of views on the practical and administrative aspects of fire department work between the visitors and the men at Station #2 continued most of the morning.

Stolen pumpkins, police said, fill the trunk of this auto in which six teenagers were riding Friday night. The youths were released to their parents after being taken to the Arlington Heights police station for questioning.

Long Weekend For Vandalism

Revered broke like on one of four cars struck by vandals Friday night when their owners were participating in a Republican Rally at the Morse Jr. High School in Arlington Heights. Arlington Heights police are investigating the incident.

Topics will include policy formation, administrative procedures, the accounting system, master planning of the campus, educational programs, site selection criteria, organizational design, administrative standards, personnel policies, sources of financial support and community relations.

A foreign exchange student may be in the house for the second Dist. 214 High School. Charles Aldrich, director of student activities at Elk Grove High School says that he has learned that if the school applies to the American Field Service program by January 1, they may receive a South American student in March. "This program would be reciprocal. We would send one student from Elk Grove for every student we receive," Aldrich said.

The International Fellowship, Inc. is co-sponsoring the program with AFS.

Fund Delay Halts Headstart Classes

BY JACK A. VANDERHYN

Operation Headstart, including 260 children in Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships, has been temporarily halted because federal funds to finance the program have failed to arrive.

First Headstart classes were held Thursday in five locations throughout the area. Headstart in the four-suburban area is under the direction of the Northwest Cook County Opportunity Council (NORWESCO). The council was formed in October, 1965, after Headstart got off the ground through a small program in Elk Grove Elementary School Dist. 59.

The year, Headstart was expected to get five locations and a total enrollment of 260 or 11, has requested a federal grant of $300,000 to operate more classes from Nov. 1, 1966, through Sept. 1, 1967. Teachers who participated in the sudden halt of the activity. They thought federal approval was complete and the program funded for its fall and winter operation.

Headstart classes were being held in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village, Chicago in Cook County, Palatine Lutheran Church, Palatine, Patton School, Arlington Heights, and in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village, Chicago in Cook County.

of the countywide Headstart program, said that the NORWESCO activity could be back in operation, "perhaps as early as this week."

Rackauskas said that the Cook County Office of Economic Development has requested permission from the federal government to transfer $10,000 to NORWESCO as a temporary basis to keep its program operating.

When NORWESCO's funding is approved, it will expand its current operation from five to seven centers. It hopes to relocate its centers closer to what Headstart officials have designated as "priority areas."

A family could have more than $1,000 income and still fall under the heading of culturally deprived, however.

Christopher Naricase, executive director of the Cook County Office of Economic Development, said that Headstart has been temporarily at a standstill throughout Cook County.

There are seven programs such as the NORWESCO one, reaching an estimated 1,000 youngsters under the City of Chicago in Cook County.

NARICASE said that he anticipates early approval of federal funds for the program and that the present Headstart problems are administrative. "The money is just bogged down in Washington," he said.

John Rackauskas, director of the program, said that the program has been suspended throughout the county, and it is in operation in the City of Chicago.

—or until the Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity receives permission to transfer funds.

About 75 per cent of the children reached by Headstart in the NORWESCO area are from Spanish speaking families. At the program involved primarily the children of migrant workers, but many migrant families have now settled in the area as year-arounders.

NORWESCO, through Headstart and other programs, helps these families in housing as well as education.

"I hope they get this thing straightened out in a hurry," one Headstart teacher said. "We were really making progress with the children. They need so much. We even provide warm water clothes for them."

Spectators gather in tow truck regions as overturned auto from Road south of Route and Algonquin Rd. Friday night. The driver, Harold Stupinsky, is reported in satisfactory condition in Northwest Community Hospital.

Hard Keeping Cars on Road

Harold Stupinsky, 27, of La Grange, was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday in Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, after his car overturned in a field south of Route 54 and Algonquin Rd. Friday night.

Stupinsky, according to police records, "does not remember anything" until he was placed in an ambulance. Stupinsky said he was driving south on Route 54 and his car collided with a stop light on the south side of Algonquin where Route makes a right angle curve.

His car landed in the ditch 37 feet from the stop light. He suffered no injuries.

He was arrested for drunken driving and released on $25 bond. He is due in Mount Prospect court Nov. 10.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Wigmore of Chicago drove her son into a ditch in front of 1401 S. Route 54, where he was killed Friday. She told Mount Prospect police the windshield had hit and she could not see.

Thanks Mailers for Zip Lists

Postmaster Virginia F. Dodge thanked Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove Village residents who are participating in a plan to add ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists.

She regretted all those who had sent in their "ZIP - A - LIST" forms to do so.

As part of a nationwide program, the Postal Service will add the ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists. Every household in the nation has been sent forms with blanks for addresses to which residents with the post office to add the five number codes.

"It's not too early to think of adding ZIP Codes to your Christmas mailing list," Postmaster Dodge suggested. "Also, it would help us greatly if you would print each address."

"Personal and social mail accounts for more than 20 billion pieces annually.

MRS. DODGE encouraged mailers to use the ZIP Codes on all address because mail moves by a more direct route and is handled faster times.

In filling out the forms, householders are asked merely to list the addresses - not the names - of their correspondents.

Incomplete addresses which are submitted but cannot be ZIP Coded by the local post office, such as those in a city like Washington, D.C., which has the same street names and numbers in the northeast, southwest, southeast and west sections, will be sent to the appropriate city and the codes will be added there.

Postmaster Dodge emphasized the importance of including the return address on the

Four Homes In One Plan

The Centex Corp., developers of Elk Grove Village, recently opened seven new models in Elk Grove. A convertible ranch home, the Radcliffe, has turned out to be the most popular, according to Robert Winkie, Centex sales manager. The Radcliffe has 1,579 sq.

ft. of living area and is priced at $26,750.

The term "convertible" is used, Winkie said, because the home is available with four different exteriors, offers transportation of bedrooms, and buyers have the choice of a three bedroom home or a four bedroom home.

Attend Twp. Convention

Three Elk Grove Township officials, William Rohlfing, supervisor; George R. Buus, town clerk; and Arnold Scherphagen, tax collector, attended the recent 17th annual convention of Township Officials of Illinois in Peoria.

Theme of the 3-day convention was "Home Rule, the Very Essence of American Democracy."

Scherphagen told the day that the townships have to fight efforts that are made during each session of the state legislature to turn township operations over to the counties. "We feel the township form of government is more representative of the people, especially in the unincorporated areas and can get things done more quickly and efficiently for less money," he said.

The township form of government was introduced in Illinois in 1848 and the Township Officials of Illinois was formed in 1909. "When the on-ships began to awaken that they would have to band together to fight centralization of government," said Scherphagen. "We have been fighting it ever since," he added.

The third class of nurses to complete six-weeks of classroom and practical training at Northwest Community Hospital is the refresher course included (seated from left to right): Mrs. Edna B. Sprague, Mrs. Elmer C. Cramer, Mrs. Darlene Bergert, Mrs. Helen

kept busy

In his lifetime, the average American male spends a full year washing, five years shaving and dressing, 20 years wearing, 10 years of inaction and three years of just waiting.

Eleven Nurses
Get Certificates

Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights held special "refresher" courses for 11 nurses Tuesday afternoon. The class was special for two reasons. The nurses completed the six-week refresher course in nursing techniques offered by the hospital, and it was the first anniversary of the program in the community.

"While this group we have retained 24 nurses in the community," said Mrs. Mary Dugan of 2206 Gossburn Rd., Arlington Heights, Mrs. Dugan is director of education at the hospital and holds a master's degree in nursing.

The class was started last fall for registered nurses who had been away from the profession for a number of years. Lectures by doctors, classroom sessions and direct patient care are included in the course. The trained nurses receive intensive instruction in new techniques and hospital procedures.

Mrs. Dugan says the course will be offered again in the spring and is available through registered nurses in the surrounding area. The course is a registered program with the Chicago Community Council on Nursing.

LAST YEAR the fall class had six "grads." There were seven in the spring and this fall 11 women successfully completed training.

Alma B. Campbell, administrator, presented the certificates.

The women have been away from the active nursing profession for an average of 14 years. The most recent one to be graduated from nursing training completed the course 12 years ago and one nurse returned to the hospital for the refresher course after a 17-year absence.

The 11 fall graduates have a total of 39 children.

"It was a difficult decision to return but the thing that really gets you started is working right away," said one nurse.

Several of the women will begin Monday as members of the staff at Northwest Community Hospital.

The refresher course will be offered again in the spring.

Helping Hand For Senior Citizens

Mrs. Riddinger holds two of the handmade dolls available in her shop, Bee's Boutique Gift Shop.

BY MARILYN HELLERS

"The woman who made these baby clothes is 80 years old. This rug is made entirely of bread wrappers by a woman who needed physical therapy for her hands," said Mrs. Riddinger. Mrs. Riddinger, of Bee's Boutique Gift Shop in Arlington Heights, can tell story after story about the 40 contributors to her new shop.

Mrs. Riddinger takes articles made by senior citizens and handicapped persons and sells them on consignment in the boutique, located in the back of Marge's Sample Apparel Shop, 1010 N. Duxton.

"HOBIES ARE my hobby," said Mrs. Riddinger. "I thought it would be nice if I could do something to help provide an outlet for the many items made by senior citizens. I've often thought how unfortunate it would be if we didn't encourage handicraft, so that these skills will be passed on to future generations," she said.

One additional supplier to Bee's Boutique is a rehabilitation center for alcoholics in Phoenix. It supplies lapidary items from delicate jewelry to an entire table top inlaid with stones.

Articles in the store include quilts, doll clothes, stuffed toys, ceramics, woodwork, pine cone wreaths, knai items made to order, crocheted items, wall plaques, oil paintings, rugs and jewelry.

Mrs. Riddinger, her husband Bud, and children, Bill 14, and Becky, 17, live at 600 E. Park in Arlington Heights. She and her husband were in business at the Duxton Court Cleaners for eight years.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Alger G. Johnson of 309 S. Sheridan, Arlington Heights, have announced the engagement of their daughter Ellen, 19, to William Francis Sheas Jr.

Sheas is the son of the senior William F. Sheas of Clarendon Hills.

Miss Johnson attended DePaul University in Graveline, O. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta society.

Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, where he was an Evan Scholar.

The couple plans an April wedding.

What To Serve With Coffee?

Apples are used in a quick cake that is just the answer to the question: "What can I serve with coffee?"

Apples are combined with nuts in this recipe for a deliciously moist treat. Best of all, it only takes a few minutes and you have a tasty cake to serve for dessert or when your neighbor stops over for coffee.

CRIPPED APPLE-NUZ CAKE

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening or lard
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 large Jonathan or Northern Spy apples, peeled and chopped
- 1/2 cup raisins, chopped

Cream together butter or shortening and sugar. Add the beaten egg. Sift together flour, baking soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, and salt. Mix flour and sugar mixtures together. Add chopped apples and raisins. Spread in a well-oiled greased pan. Let stand for 10 minutes, then bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream or ice cream.

Beef Over Buns

Hearty Sandwiches For Football Picnic

Whether you're cooking for a great outdoor's fun or just seeking a change-of-gait sandwich for a family lunch, hot beef beauty could be your answer.

For the out-of-doors men in your family, make this recipe ahead of time. While it is cooking hot, pour it a thermos jar.

A salad course may be added easily by making the salad dressing and putting it into a jar. Pick the makings of your salad in a plastic bag, using crisp greens and lettuce, vegetables such as celery, radishes and carrots.

All you need for the rest of the meal are sandwiches, hot sauce and something hot to drink. This meal comes in equally good for a hot-weather lunch on a cold day.

- 1 envelope (3/4 oz.) French's Brown-Gravy Mix
- 3 tomatoes, sliced
- 4 hamburger buns, split and buttered
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons French's Gravy Salt
- 1/2 teaspoon French's Black Pepper
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1 cup salad oil
- 1/2 cup olive oil

Hand together the yellow mustard, sugar, garlic salt, and pepper. Add vinegar and two oils. Shake or beat to thoroughly blend. Chill. Shake well again before serving over crisp salad greens. Makes 2-1/2 cups.

KEEF BOUNTY IN BROWN GRAY

- 4 whole steaks, cut into bite-size pieces
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon French's mustard
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 green pepper
- 1 teaspoon French's Worcestershire Sauce
- 1-1/4 cup cold water

Before and After Dark

By JOHN SONIA

A real night on the town is a wonderful cure for those in-the-blue blues.

There was a real evening! It was a party at DON THE BEACHCOMBER's where the Tinkles straddle gave you in a holiday mood the moment you all got to the door, started our night out. It was small, pleasantly appetizing and different.

The menu is attentive with Casserole dishes prepared by artists. We found it so advantageous to have them order for us, a procedure I highly recommend.

First came the exotic beverages, Mystery Gardens and Planter's Fruits - refreshing and delicious. Appetizers were marmoset fried shrimp, chatty, crisp egg rolls and barbecued pork ribs done just on.

We should have stopped there but we didn't. Next came the pressed duck, Chicken Almond and the cold Pin, the latter two mixed with those crisp, Casserole vegetables. Dessert was fresh Hawaiian pineapple plums and kumquats in a bed of snow ice.

This kind of fun should be enjoyed liberally.

FOR FAMILY fun we highly recommend THE SWEETENED in Arlington. The atmosphere is not only excellent food, but the variety is extensive. The atmosphere is clean, modern and pleasant.

If you go for lunch, get there early otherwise you'll have to wait. The prices are unusually reasonable and you can bring the young ones for fun.

just two years. Yes, he has many of his father's mannerisms and technique, but we think he's got it. He can put over a song either mood-smooth or soaring-highly melodious. "Nancy with the Laughing Face" was done with a dash. It was good entertainment.

THE SAM DONAHUE SEXTET, old masters, were part of the night, with vocalist JEANNE THOMAS doing eye-appeal.

A COLLECTION of old and new that EDIE's was in Mount Prospect. See-ty-ty to Arlington Heights.

Scotland's magnificent scenery and the picturesque countryside of Wales will be brought to the attention of Maine Township High School East, Porter Rd. and Dempsey, Park Ridge.

When Ed Lark presents the second of the Maine East Community Lecture Series. The personally narrated travel film will be shown at 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 9.

WALSH, like Scotland, has retained its own natural character and individuality. Story-book castles such as Conway and Carnarvon were built by King Edward I during his conquest of Wales. Fishing with net and coracle boat has changed little in over 2,000 years.

Industrial Wales is represented by the great Rhondda Valley coal mines and the Swansea steel works. Cardiff displays attractive modern suburbs and shopping centers. Ed Lark tours by horseback the country between Rhayader and the seaside resort of Shrewsbury.

The Welshman's love for singing and dancing is best expressed in the International Eisteddfod folk festival at Llangollen. There, 10,000 competitors from 30 nations produce one of the most significant musical festivals in Europe.

A native of California, Lark received his degree in Mechanical Engineering at the University of California. He has been a professional film lecturer since the age of 17 when he spent a year in Europe. Baked goods that will be available 7 p.m. onwards during a regular PTA meeting.

Fancy Lights Leave Resident In the Dark

While Stongate and Scarsdale residents fight to preserve their 40-year-old street lights, people living in the two-block area of N. Dwyer La. are waiting for someone to turn on their new street lights.

The street lights, the big modern concrete pole type, were installed about two months ago but have never been turned on.

In a letter to The Day, G. S. Wooten Jr., advised Stongate and Scarsdale residents: "Hold on to those lights - at least they work."

Gene E. Wilford, public works director, said the lights are set up on a circuit and that all poles on the circuit must be ready to go before any of them can be turned on.

It just happened that the Public Service Co. chose to put the Dwyer La. one in first," he said.

The lights should be turned on soon, he said. The poles were put in by a private contractor and paid for by the developer of the area.

John F. Gillen, president of the Stongate Civic Assn., said the group has not to consider the town and country light and other proposals and should reach a decision soon.

The town and country lights have several blinks. One is that the village does not know if the state will allow motor fuel tax funds to help pay for them.

Even if the state pays part of the cost, Stongate residents would have to pay the difference between what the village pays and what the state and county lights cost.

At a committee meeting last week, village trustees proposed that Stongate consider a newly developed "town and country" light.

Judge Delays Riley-Village Decision

shyly voted in favor of Stongate.

According to law, at least seven yes votes were needed for passage because of the filing of the protest petition.

If Donovan decides that the petition is not valid, the Aug. 30 minutes will have to be held over to allow time for the re-opening proposal passed.

DONOVAN said he will make a decision in early November but did not say exactly when.

The judge can make his decision in two ways. He can write a letter of opinion to both Stongate and have the letter read into the court record, or he can summon the Stongate and read his decision in court.

New Flower Shop In Village

Brigitte Loris is her new shop, Citta's Flowers.

How often do you have fresh flowers in your home?

Mrs. Brigitte Loris hopes to encourage more area women to develop the fresh-flower habit. She opened a new flower shop, Citta's Flowers at 206 N. Duane in Arlington Heights, on Friday, Oct. 21.

Mrs. Loris, who has lived at 621 S. Highland in the village for 10 years, came to Arlington Heights from Germany.

"In Europe," she said, "people buy fresh flowers every Friday to have them in their home for the weekend."

Citta's flower shop is artistically arranged with fresh and artificial arrangements. In addition to cut flowers, the shop has many kinds of decorative leaves for arrangements. Her featured arrangement for the week sits in the special spot in the front window.

Brigitte Loris studied with the American Floral Art School and worked for Posh's Flowers before opening her shop in Arlington Heights.

She and her husband Adan are the parents of Peter, 21 and Marcus, 9.

Play Pen May Be Prison

Your baby's play pen may be a prison that bars him from learning as much as he could. Granted that it's a safe place to put the baby when you have countless household chores to do. But how is Junior going to learn if he can't see, touch, taste, listen to them, experiment or play with them?

"As infant's waking hours are dedicated to the discovery of the world about him," says Frank Caplan, general manager of a toy firm.

"Commercial cribs, cribs and play pens are far too restraining," he charges.

CAPLAN suggests that creper shouldn't be fenced in all the time, but allowed to play sometimes in areas that are safe.

Scout-crawlers or kiddie cars, rollers and handle bars are safe playthings which permit the baby's exercise, Caplan says.

For the child in the pre-crawling stage, Caplan advises that a "tickling" mobile be placed in his crib, carriage or play pen.

WHEEL-A-Baby's health and safety come first, the toy manufacturer says the baby's desire to learn must be stimulated for the child's happiness.

"There is abundant evidence," Caplan says, "that infants exposed to many sights and sounds during the first year of life are more alert in later years than those without such experience."

He cited the psychologist Piaget, who said: "The more a child has seen and heard, the more he wants to see and hear."

In Appreciation

Mrs. Anthony Blomard of the After Junior Women's Club presents a plaque to Paul Sampson (center) and Tom Johnson of The Celler, Arlington Heights.

The presentation was made in appreciation of the men's co-operation on a dance last August at The Celler sponsored by the After Junior Women's Club. Dance proceeds of about $1,000 made possible the gift of a club pledge of $4,000 to the Chetwood Center for the Retarded in Rolling Meadows.

Water to Burn

By Catherine O'Donnell

This column recently asked a question about the disparity in water bills for homes of equal homes and physical properties. The bills ranged from $11 to $44.

No one volunteered the answer but yesterday the scheduled chamber house evening water was called to say that she is very unhappy over her bill.

Her bill for a two-month supply of water was $151.30. "With that much water we could float our boat right out of the village, including the water department," she said. She also professed that her name was not used.

"I called the water department. The girl told me that there must be a leak. She told me to get a plumber and he said it was in the toilet tank. If the water in the toilet started turning the color of the ink something was leaking."

"I went right out, bought the non-permanent ink and put it in our three tanks. There was no leak. I followed instructions and checked the meter at night. It was changed in the morning which showed there was nothing leaking."

In that case, she told me the amount of the bill was correct. The next day I called to speak to someone else. Mr. Grant came on the phone. I told him everything.

"He told me he was no plumber which was interesting and I told him neither was I. I could tell what water was leaking or not leaking in my own house. We'd checked all of the very visible pipes in the basement, the water heater and everything else."

"He said sometimes the water seeps into the tank and then leaks out. We have no water seepage. He finally said they would come out and take the water meter off and if it checks out the cost would be my responsibility. He also said it was an expensive job."

"Yesterday the men came to take out the meter, only they found two meters. I'll let you know what happens next."

Coffee Anyone?
When Robert Cronin came to speak to the Arlington Heights 3rd District Representative, he told the chairman group of women that program chairman Mrs. Carl King of N. Carlyle had told him that she had actually dreamed about introducing him.

It is her dream the title of his talk which was "Facts of Life." Cronin is a former war correspondent, editor of the Tribune's Book Today and host on television's Book Beat.

The club women thoroughly enjoyed his talk.

The women were asked to consider the Jervis to sponsor a coffee. The coffee would cost a dollar donation and the club's community improvement committee headed by Flo Rogowski and Betty Shebek would turn the profits over to the museum building fund.

Mrs. Marie Kurtz, 805 S. Mitchell, will hold her coffee on election day. It will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 11 p.m.

early in the morning and go on leave. If any choice workers would like to drop in for a cup of coffee and hold pleasant conversation and at the same time help a good cause, the Kurtz home is the place. The Kurtz is open to everyone.

Seagoing Theme
"Seagoing does resemble a lovely little English town." This is the expert opinion of the village's water department. The Kurtz home is the place. The Kurtz is open to everyone.

It is the past two months, Miss Cheryl has met more of the country than she has in a lifetime. She arrived at O'Hare on her birthday which was Labor Day. She stayed briefly with Hal and Margaret before she took a train to Seattle.

She stopped at all of the major sightseeing spots all the way. The Curtzes flew out to join her in Portland where they raised their son David and his family. They traveled on a train down the West Coast to San Francisco and beyond the San Jose Olympics.

The Curtzes returned home while Phillys went on to Los Angeles where she continued her sightseeing. She returned to Chicago in the company of a reunion with another cousin, the High Court of St. Thomas and Lady Hilda Overy.

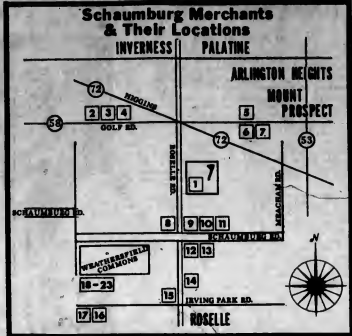

Phyllis loves to walk around Arlington Heights. She is especially fond of the churches which she finds very beautiful.

"Everyone," she said, "in this country has been so very kind. The big difference between British and American custom is the number of guests the housewives here have to cook with. They are fascinating."

"Phyllis will remain until Thanksgiving. She will be in the East Coast with a no-tailgate stop on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, Boston, New York and Washington next and she'll be on her way home."

Slates Broadcast
Arlington Heights Radio Station WNCN-C will broadcast the Arlington High School - Schuamburg South varsity football game at 5 p.m. tonight. There will be a 15 minute program show preceding the broadcast.

Luncheon Meeting Nov. 8

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church, 605 W. Golf Road, Mount Prospect, will meet November 8 at 12:30 p.m.

The luncheon will meet in the sanctuary for "Moments of Meditation" followed by a luncheon to be served by Martha Circle at 1 p.m.

The program will feature a film entitled "Children Without." Members are asked to make luncheon reservations through their circle.

Things are looking up at OLD ORCHARD COUNTRY CLUB THEATRE, with their opening of Andre Rousseau's "NINA," a very subtle French farce, with insight and humor in every other line.

It's about a man who discovers his wife has a lover, and in a state of rage and anger, he kills him. Within a few moments of the play, the audience is told that the wife is innocent and the husband is the villain.

So who does what to whom cannot stand alone, but this play is more of a comedy, and a very good one. However, Norm Rice, who directed this one, may be able to laugh her up enough to make her realize that the play is not as funny as it is serious on the surface. The play is a classic of its kind.

In the cast are Joy Stephen (as the wife) and Old Orchard, who does an excellent portrayal of the debaucher's lover, which is actually J. S. Con. Dennis Kennedy, also will know in local as a comedian, when a comedy role is his. He does this one, and he does a great performance. The play is a comedy, and the interpretation of Dennis and Jack is a lot to behold.

The wife is done by Norma Young (better known as "Bright Eyes"), and perhaps she was one in the role because the characters generally have a touch of the clown. Though Norma has a number of fine qualities, this vehicle is for her.

The character is sophisticated.

Elsewhere On Stage

Shadebrook Theatre opens the week with Ray Milland in the courtroom whodunit, "Hush" by William.

"Half A Shipmate" opens at the McVickers theatre with Dick Kallman, better known as "Mark of the TV series," in the Meadows Park and at the same time at Lions Park.
